

ANTI-CHOICE PROJECT

making abortion impossible to ignore or trivialize

November 2017, Quarterly Newsletter | antichoiceproject.com | PO Box 5992, Bremerton, WA 98312 | info@antichoiceproject.com

Dear Friend of the Anti-Choice Project,

We are excited to announce that starting this month, ACP reserved a six-month spot for a billboard along Highway 3 in Belfair, Washington. It asks the very important question: If you can't protect life, then how can you protect liberty? Abortion is fundamentally opposed to freedom. By robbing the unborn person of their life, you destroy their liberty, and any possible pursuit of happiness.

Billboards are a very cost effective way to reach tens of thousands with our message, day and night, rain or shine. The challenge for us has always been getting what we consider a compelling pro-life message that will actually change minds and save lives to be displayed. Multiple times we have been turned away by billboard companies who don't want to field the complaints and angry phone calls they get from pro-aborts who know our messaging is effective. These companies have offered to display alternative pro-life messaging — but the message is so watered down and unconvincing as to be a waste of our resources.

Our newly launched billboard in Washington, which will be running for 6 months along a busy highway.

In this case, the billboard is owned by an individual who happens to be very pro-life, and so our messaging is not a problem at all. This sign will be displayed in Belfair for three months, after which we will switch it out with a new design for another three months. Our billboard in Lincoln, Nebraska, also remains up to this day just across the street from Planned Parenthood.

RECENT WINS FOR THE PRO-LIFE CAUSE

During these dark times — where we are met daily with evermore depressing headlines about rampant sexual abuse in Hollywood and the highest levels of our government, the homosexual and transgender agendas being pushed through our schools and media, the mass shootings and terrorist attacks — it is helpful to remind ourselves of some positive developments.

Trump announces the appointment of Neil Gorsuch to the US Supreme Court.

In his November 16th, 2017, LifeSiteNews article, "Donald Trump is the most pro-life president in American history," Father Mark Hodges offers us a long list of this president's pro-life accomplishments. Fr. Hodges points out that the list of Trump's pro-life cabinet appointments is quite long. From HUD Secretary Ben Carson to Vice President Mike Pence to U.N. Ambassador Nikki Haley and Attorney General Jeff Sessions, virtually all of his closest advisors and high level representatives are solidly pro-life. Hodges continues, "...not just his top cabinet, but right on down to government officials at every level, Trump exceeded everybody's pro-life expectations. From Dr. Charmaine Yoest (as an HHS Assistant Secretary) and Roger Severino (to head the HHS' Office of Civil Rights) to (former Gov.) Sam Brownback, Teresa Manning, Shannon Royce, Valerie Huber, Mark Green (who withdrew under liberal assaults), Bethany Kozma, Ryan Zinke, and Sean Spicer (who later resigned over a liberal appointment's machinations). From the start, it was clear that Trump may have exaggerated his abilities, but he really meant it when he said he was pro-life."

Fr. Hodges goes on to name some of the greatest pro-life achievements of this administration, such as Trump's numerous judicial appoints, reinstating the Mexico City Policy, withdrawing funding from the abortion-promoting U.N. Population Fund, and ending the forced abortion coverage mandate in ObamaCare. He closes his piece by quoting Father Frank Pavone: "Priests for Life's Father Frank Pavone praised Trump's 'very measurable and tangible executive actions to advance the rights of the unborn.' However, Fr. Pavone claims Trump's greatest pro-life feat was not an appointment, nomination, or executive order. 'The most powerful thing he has accomplished for the pro-life movement is that he kept Hillary Clinton out of the White House,' Pavone said."

ACP CO-FOUNDERS' FAMILIES CONTINUE TO GROW!

As some of you already know, ACP Co-Founder Tom Herring and his wife Carrie are now proud parents to twins John Paul Thomas and Benedict Joseph, who were born on October 31, 2017! John Paul weighed 6 lbs. 4 oz. at birth, and Benedict weighed 7 lbs. 5 oz. Carrie delivered her sixth and seventh children naturally, and is relieved to have avoided a cesarean delivery. Andrew and Lindsey St.Hilaire celebrated their youngest child Damien's first birthday this month, which means the combined total of co-founder kids now sits at a solid 11...and counting!

We thank you for your continued prayers and support of this apostolate and our families!

Sincerely Yours,

Tom Herring
